

ancient wisdom ♦ modern technology

For Immediate Release

WebPod Studio™. Feature rich Audio and Video PodCast composer.

The U.K./Canada based software company Lionhardt Technologies has released Webpod Studio™ for Windows; a feature rich Audio and Video PodCast composer application.

WebPod Studio™ is designed to allow and encourage new and experienced computer users to create, gather content, and produce polished audio and video broadcasting over the internet. Additionally, broadcasts may be uploaded to existing servers and can be archived on those servers, or burned onto CD or DVD disc.

WebPod Studio will handle the creation of RSS feeds, the compiling of audio & video PodCasts, uploading, and publishing of data. Designed in a familiar graphical interface, WebPod Studio™ is a tabbed-window based intuitive-flow software product, providing for an efficient, easy-to-comprehend process, one that offers optional user-ideas and information along the way.

Currently WebPod Studio is available for Microsoft Windows™ operating systems. Pricing starts at $89.95 for the standard edition to $169.50 for the Professional edition shipped on a USB Stick.

Lionhardt Technologies has been creating quality software since 1990. In addition to WebPod Studio, Lionhardt Technologies also markets BlogWizard, Broadcast Builder, Enclosure Extractor, and other software products.

For more information about WebPod Studio you can contact Lionhardt Technologies at marketing@lionhardt.ca or via the website at <http://www.lionhardt.ca/contact.asp>. Review licenses for editors and journalists are available. Please contact us for details.

P.S. You can download a free evaluation version at <http://www.lionhardt.ca/wps/>
###